FIRST PARTNER

CHALLENGE

1

Day 1 - Partner Definition for Government Contracting

2

Day 2 - Creating your Avatar: The Partner Journey

3

Day 3 - Partner Data Gathering to Build Rapport

4

Day 4 - Partner Offer Scripts and Demonstrating Expertise

5

Day 5 - Create Partner Success and Win Long Term

BUILDING PARTNER RAPPORT

DAY 3

WHAT IS A PARTNER?

Partner - A partner in a business refers to entities or individuals that collaborate closely with a company to achieve common goals or undertake specific projects, often through strategic alliances or joint ventures.

Business partnerships stand as a cornerstone of growth, innovation, and sustainability in the corporate world. They encompass a wide range of forms, including strategic alliances, joint ventures, and supplier relationships, each tailored to leverage mutual strengths for shared success.

"The greater your Partnerships the farther you go."

7 WAYS TO LEARN

1. Active - Engage with the material problem solving
2. Visual - Seeing charts and graphs to connect the dots
3. Auditory - Lectures, audiobooks, podcasts
4. Reading and Writing - reading textbooks, articles
5. Hands on - physical activities: models, experiments
6. Collaborative - group discussions, study groups
7. Mentorship and apprenticeship - learning from someone experienced in the field

RAPPORT BUILDING

Rapport is the establishment of trust, harmony, and cooperation in a relationship, characterized by mutual understanding, respect, and effective communication.

It's a foundational element in building both personal and professional relationships, facilitating smoother interactions and creating an environment where ideas, feedback, and emotions can be exchanged openly and positively. In essence, rapport is about making a connection with another person or group that leads to a comfortable, congenial relationship.

Building rapport involves key practices, such as:

- active listening,
- showing empathy,
- being genuine in your interactions, and
- finding common ground.

RAPPORT BUILDING

It requires a conscious effort to tune into others' perspectives, values, and feelings, thereby fostering a sense of mutual respect and understanding. When rapport is established, individuals are more likely to feel valued and understood, which can lead to more productive and satisfying interactions.

In professional settings, rapport is crucial for teamwork, customer relations, negotiation, and leadership. It not only enhances collaboration and cooperation but also facilitates conflict resolution and problem-solving by creating a foundation of trust.

DEMONSTRATE KNOWLEDGE

- Teach them something new
- Inspire them with Hope
- Empower them with something useful

DESIGN THE SOLUTION

- Who to Target?

- What do they care about?

- What information do we need to show to make them believers

DRAW THEM A ROADMAP

- Where are you at?

- What is possible?

- Where are we headed?

PRESENT OUR SOLUTION

- What data are we collecting
- What do we show vs say
- How long or short

HOMEWORK

1. Build a TML - FPDS top 10 list
2. Watch this video https://youtu.be/q6ZLYKdfhA4?si=h-mjjBDqjHmo2lOt&t=1734
3. Pull down forecast list
4. Video on going into bluebook
5. Video on picking up the phone and calling to ask if they want to bid

BOOKS AND RESOURCES

1. E-Myth Revisited - Michael E. Gerber
2. Why Should White Guys Have all the fun? - Reginald F. Lewis
3. How Successful People Grow - John Maxwell
4. The 50th Law - 50 Cent and Robert Green