FIRST PARTNER

CHALLENGE

1

Day 1 - Partner Definition for Government Contracting

2

Day 2 - Creating your Avatar: The Partner Journey

3

Day 3 - Partner Data Gathering to Build Rapport

4

Day 4 - Partner Offer Scripts and Demonstrating Expertise

5

Day 5 - Create Partner Success and Win Long Term

ART OF STORYTELLING

DAY 4

WHAT IS A PARTNER?

Partner - A partner in a business refers to entities or individuals that collaborate closely with a company to achieve common goals or undertake specific projects, often through strategic alliances or joint ventures.

Business partnerships stand as a cornerstone of growth, innovation, and sustainability in the corporate world. They encompass a wide range of forms, including strategic alliances, joint ventures, and supplier relationships, each tailored to leverage mutual strengths for shared success.

"The greater your Partnerships the farther you go."

7 WAYS TO LEARN

1. Active - Engage with the material problem solving
2. Visual - Seeing charts and graphs to connect the dots
3. Auditory - Lectures, audiobooks, podcasts
4. Reading and Writing - reading textbooks, articles
5. Hands on - physical activities: models, experiments
6. Collaborative - group discussions, study groups
7. Mentorship and apprenticeship - learning from someone experienced in the field

WHAT IS STORYTELLING

Storytelling in business can be applied in various formats and channels, including marketing materials, social media, presentations, internal communications, and customer testimonials. Effective storytelling requires understanding your audience, being authentic, and crafting messages that resonate on a human level. This strategic use of narratives can significantly enhance communication efforts, fostering deeper connections and driving business success.

BENEFITS OF STORYTELLING

Emotional Connection

Engagement. Stories evoke emotions, making them more engaging and memorable than traditional business communications. A compelling narrative can make customers feel connected to a brand on a personal level.

Relatability. Stories often include characters, challenges, and resolutions that audiences can relate to, helping them see their own needs or experiences reflected in the brand's message.

Simplification of Complex Ideas

Clarity: Complex products, services, or concepts can be made more accessible through storytelling, making it easier for audiences to understand and appreciate their value.
Context: Stories provide context, helping to explain why a product or service exists and what problems it solves.

Motivation and Inspiration

Inspiration: Stories can inspire action, whether it's attracting top talent, motivating current employees, or encouraging customers to make a purchase.
Vision: Sharing the company's vision through stories can unite teams and stakeholders around common goals and aspirations.

PLANNING YOUR STORY: GET THEIR ATTENTION

- Who to Tell?

- What to Say?

- How to Say It?

GET THEIR ALIGNMENT: WHY DO THEY RESPOND?

- They can't solve the problem
- You appear to have a solution
- They can resolve this issue

GET THEIR BUY IN: WHEN THEY RESPOND

- Teach them something new
- Inspire them with Hope
- Empower them with something useful

ROLE PLAY: WHY THEY DON'T BELIEVE

- Fear of the unknown

- Unconvinced - you are the one

- Comfort - juice not worth the squeeze

HOMEWORK

1. Create your call list
2. Build Presentation package template
3. Have the Maria script prepared
4. Watch the Kriti video
5. Make 25 phone calls
6. Watch the Miguel video

BOOKS AND RESOURCES

1. Doing Business By the Good Book - David Steward
2. Hunting in a Farmer's World - John F. Dini
3. Psychology of Money - Morgan Housel
4. Failing Forward - John C. Maxwell
5. Think and Grow Rich (large 8.5x11 edition) - Napoleon Hill