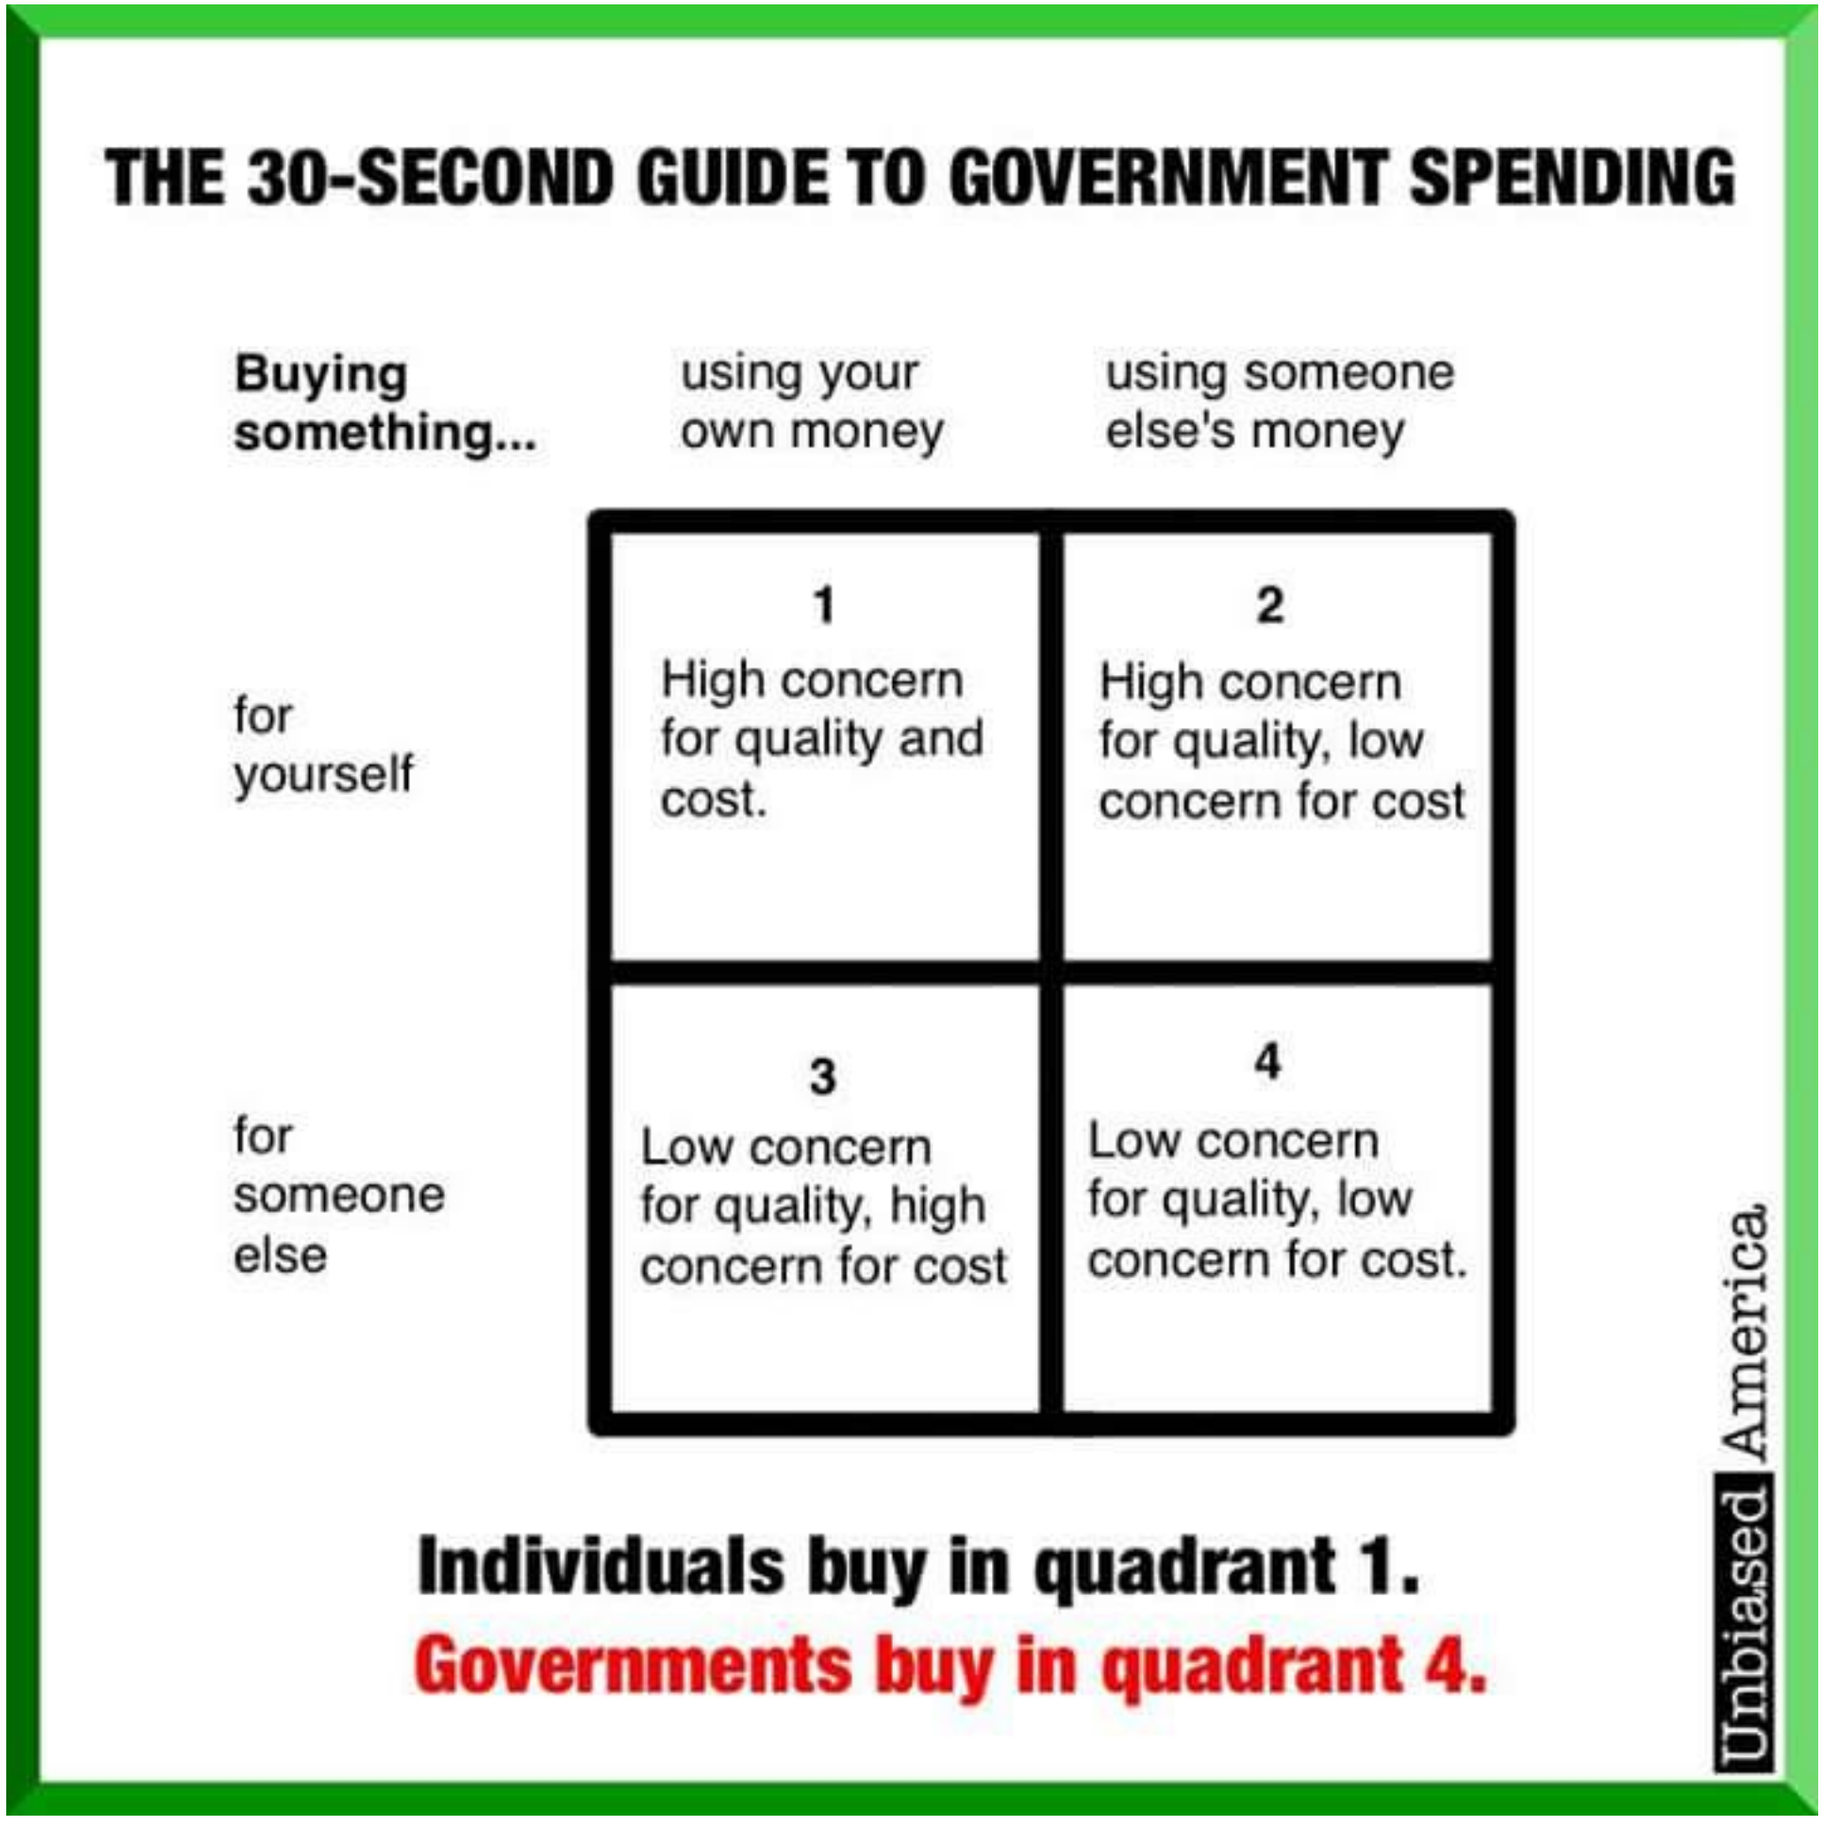
Why government don’t buy direct

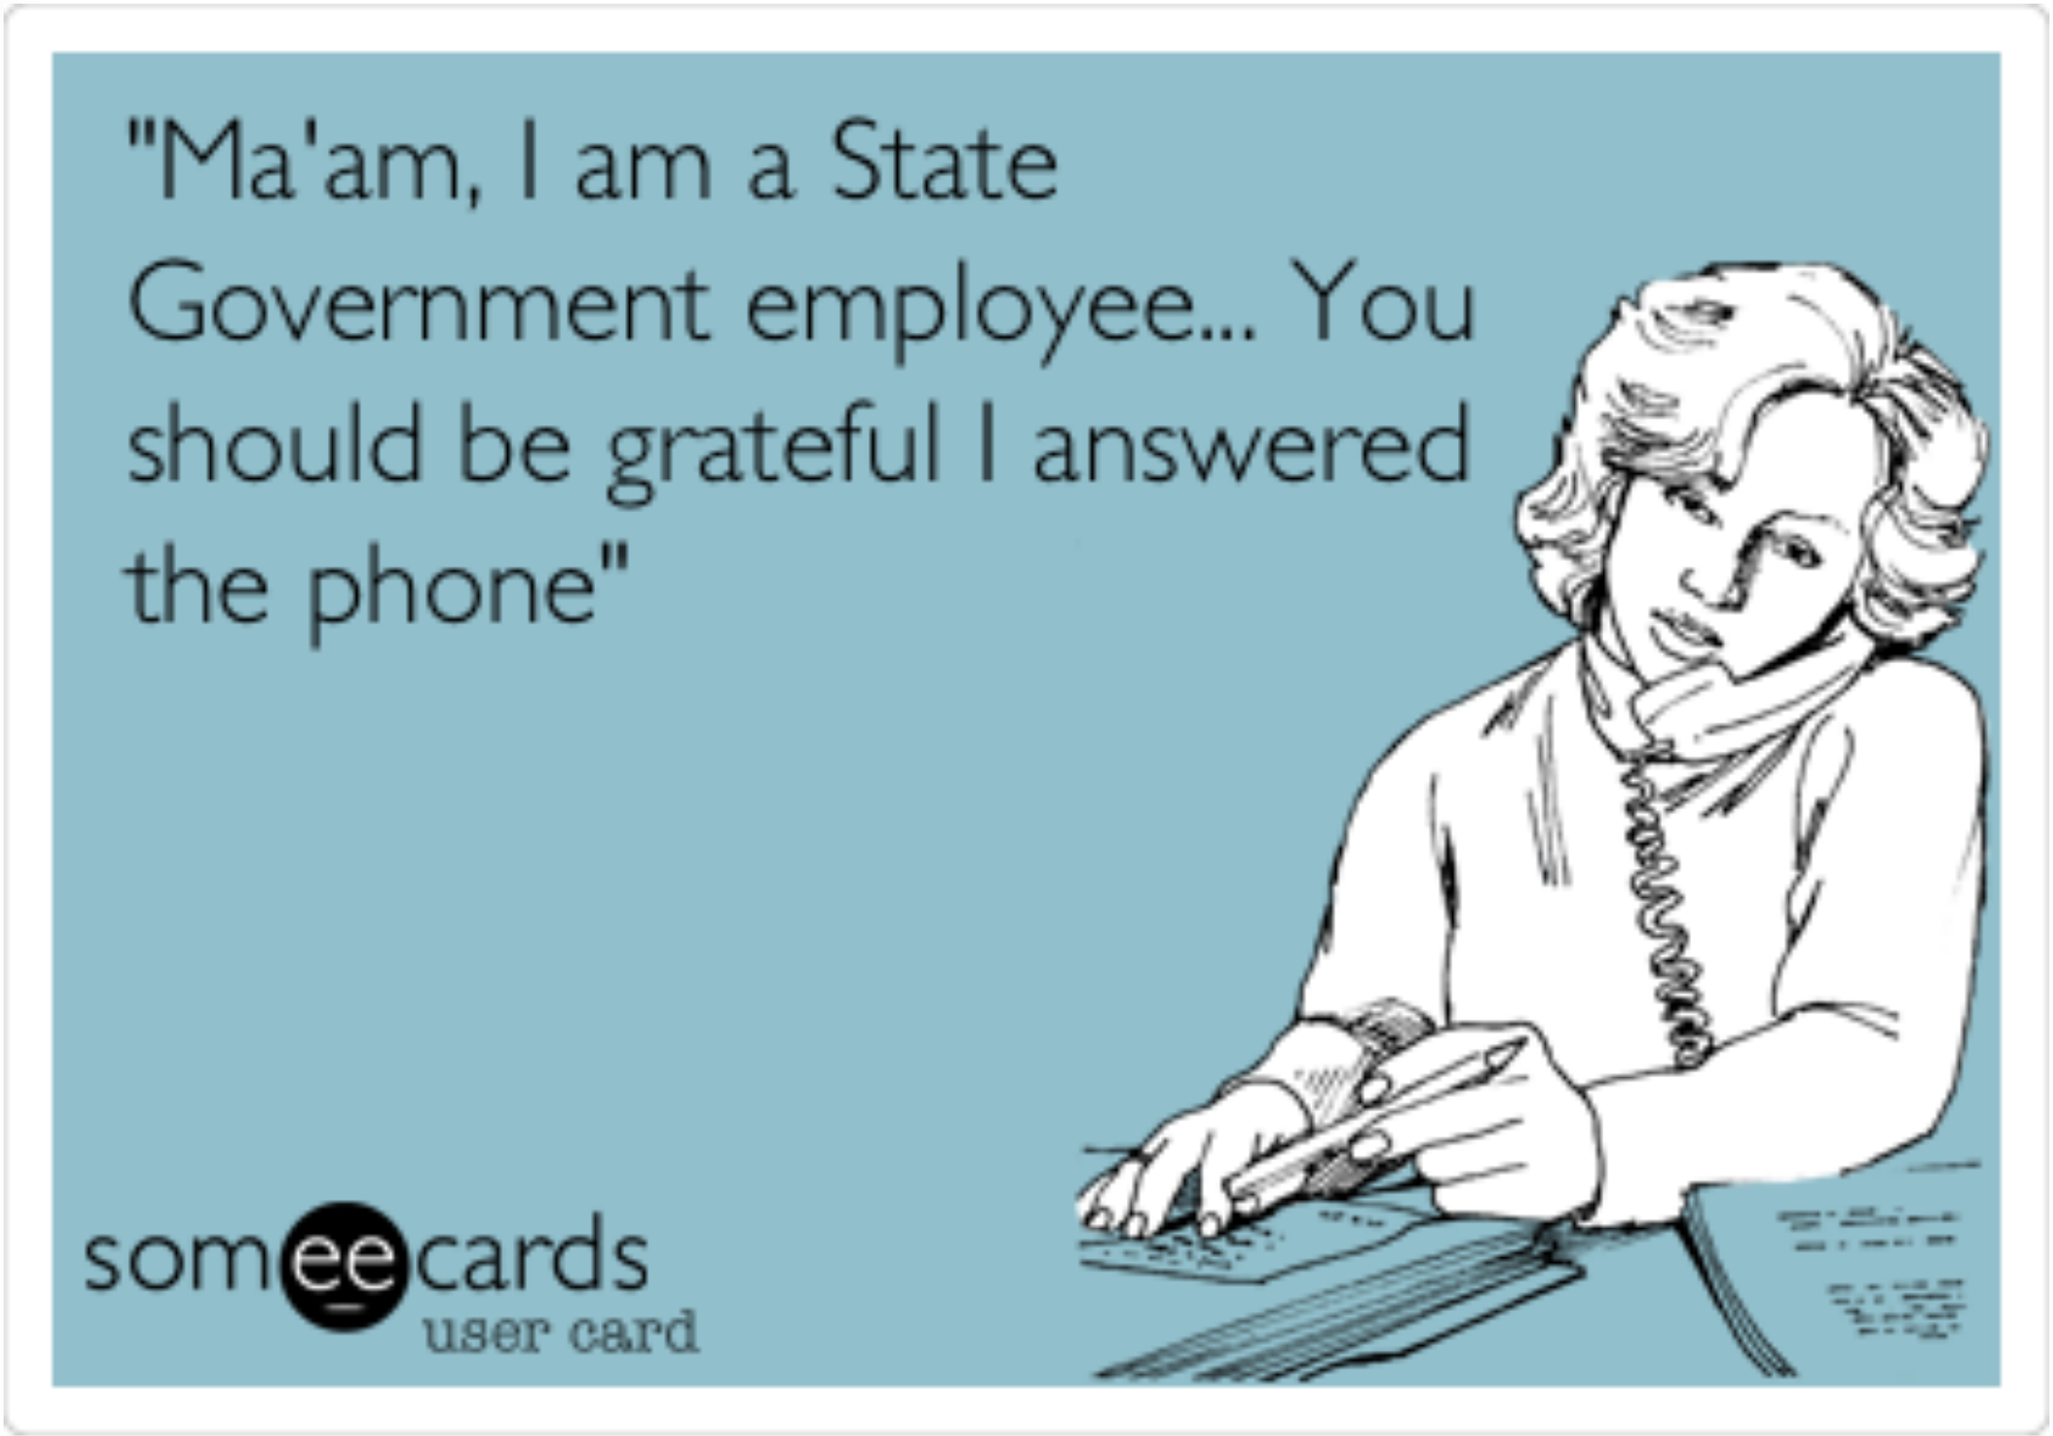


1

Government is not efficient

2

Government employees don't get fired



3 Fraud, waste and abuse

YOUR TAX DOLLARS AT WORK

Examples of excessive and wasteful federal spending contained in the latest report from Sen. Tom Coburn, Oklahoma Republican:

$15,000 to collect thousands of gallons of human urine and test it as a hay field fertilizer.

$5 million for new hand-blown crystal stemware, paid by the State Department, just days before the government shutdown in October.

$65 million of Hurricane Sandy emergency relief money that New York and New Jersey spent on television ads promoting tourism.

$124,955 to build a 3-D printer to make pizzas for NASA.

$566,000 paid by the U.S. Postal Service to a "futurist," Faith Popcorn, to try to envision a viable future for the post office.

$1.5 million spent by the FBI each year to consult with Hollywood producers and writers on how to portray the agency in movies.
